Aim

2 The aim is to redress grievances and address issues arising from maladministration in the public sector and to bring about improvements in the quality and standard of and promote fairness in the public administration, through independent and impartial investigations.

Brief Description

3 The Ombudsman is directly responsible to the Chief Executive for resolving any complaints of maladministration lodged by the public with her through informal resolution, investigations, mediation and other forms of assistance. The Office generally met its objectives and targets in 2007.

4 The key performance measures in respect of complaints administration are:

Targets

The performance of the Office of The Ombudsman can be measured by the extent of public awareness and acceptance of the Office, the thoroughness of investigations, the efficiency with which complaints are resolved, and the degree of acceptance and recognition of the effectiveness of recommendations made for the redress of grievances.

Indicators

Key indicators of performance are the number of complaint cases and enquiries received; the number of complaint cases investigated or resolved through alternative resolution methods which include rendering clarification and assistance, referral under the Internal Complaint Handling Programme (INCH) and mediation; the number of direct investigations completed; and the number of recommendations accepted by the Administration either directly or after discussion in the legislature. The reporting year of the Office ends on 31 March. The performance figures for the last three reporting years are:

@ The indicator was introduced in 2005–06 to reflect the number of complaints which The Ombudsman has decided not to pursue further after considering all their circumstances, including whether there is sufficient prima facie evidence of maladministration and whether the organisations concerned are taking action on the matter.

Matters Requiring Special Attention in 2008–09

5 During 2008–09, the Office will continue to:

- monitor the administrative actions of the public sector and institute direct investigations;
- encourage the use of mediation to settle complaints involving no or minor maladministration;
- develop community programmes to arouse public awareness and understanding of the work of the Office;
- enhance professionalism and the quality of complaint management in the Office and the public sector; and
- strengthen relationship with other ombudsman jurisdictions and kindred institutions through liaison and exchange programmes.
